

SCHOOL OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS FALL 2024 LECTURE SERIES

Rasheed Davis, PhD, PA-C

Addressing Perinatal Depression: Enhancing Maternal Health Outcomes Through Screening and Intervention

Tues, 11.19.24 | 12:00 PM

HSC, Lecture Hall 4

Explore the critical impacts of perinatal depression on maternal health and the broader implications for families and communities while we discuss the importance of screening and early intervention, drawing on current research and practical strategies. Gain insights into how healthcare providers and educators can collaboratively make a significant difference in improving health outcomes for mothers and their infants.

Stony Brook
School of Health Professions

Stony Brook University/SUNY is an equal opportunity educator and employer.